Walls That Speak — Curated Hallways Exhibit Submission

June 26–27, 2026.

OVERVIEW

Odd Wall Collective & Kreate Hub Nashville are accepting submissions for the Walls That Speak Mural & Art Festival — a two-day celebration of murals, community, and creative culture.

Alongside the featured mural installations and main gallery exhibition, selected artists will be included in a curated hallway exhibit throughout Kreate Hub Nashville. This portion of the festival is designed to transform the building itself into an evolving creative experience, activating hallways and shared spaces with a wide range of artwork and artistic voices.

We are looking for artists whose work helps create energy, conversation, atmosphere, storytelling, and visual discovery throughout the space. All mediums and styles are welcome, from painting and illustration to photography, mixed media, collage, textile work, and experimental approaches.

This exhibit is less about fitting into one strict theme and more about creating a collective experience that reflects the diversity, creativity, and spirit of the community.

ARTIST MEDIA SUBMISSION (REQUIRED)

To help build momentum for the show, all participating artists are asked to actively share behind-the-scenes content on their own Instagram pages in the weeks leading up to the exhibition.

Starting after acceptance through show week, please post:

- Progress shots of your artwork
- Behind-the-scenes studio clips
- Short process videos of you creating
- Sneak peeks / previews of your finished piece
- Personal invites encouraging people to attend the show

When posting, please tag:

@odd.wall and @kreatehubnashville

This allows us to repost your content, spotlight your work, and collectively build excitement around the exhibition without slowing down the process.

Posting Guidelines:

- Vertical video preferred for reels
- Casual, authentic content is perfect — no need for polished production
- Feel free to speak about your inspiration, process, or the theme behind your piece

The more we all share, the stronger the turnout and visibility for everyone involved. Thank you for helping us create momentum and make this show a success.

What to post (15–45 sec, phone video is perfect):

- You working on the piece
- Talking about the prompt / your process

Notes:

- Vertical video preferred
- Casual > polished

- You'll be tagged and credited in all posts

This content should be released weeks 1–3 leading up to the show to build momentum.

Thank you for helping us share the process, not just the final work.
